

SEVENTH YEAR.

MAYSVILLE, KY., FRIDAY, APRIL 8, 1898.

ONE CENT.

We All
Know

There is a popular belief that eyes cannot be properly fitted outside of an oculist's office, but we are constantly proving the incorrectness of that belief. If you have a dull pain about the eyeball, or if, when reading, the letters seem to run together, call and be relieved. We charge nothing for examination, and guarantee satisfaction in every case.

BALLENGER,
Jeweler and Optician.

The Vanceburg Christian Church now has 250 members, a gain of eleven since January last.

The two-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Hawes of East Second street was painfully burned on the arm a few days ago by falling against a grate.

While the average Maysvillian is "scared to death" over the mention of smallpox, they just eat it and fairly get fat on it down at Richmond. A few days ago Henry Lusk found a vaccine point on the sidewalk and put it in his mouth for a toothpick. His mouth is now swollen to the size of a gooseegg and he can't speak.

Deceased was born in Washington, and would have been 61 years of age next Monday.

Besides a brother, Mr. R. G. Humphreys, her husband and five children—one son and four daughters—survive.

MATTINGS.
The time has come to take up the old carpets—dusty, stale and worn with use—and substitute neat, cool and pretty Mattings. Humbug is rampant in Straw Mattings. The market is full of Mattings that are hardly worth the tacks and trouble necessary to put them down. Again, such stuff and the humbug methods employed for its sale we put a regular, carefully-selected stock at prices so low true and honest competition could not meet them.

AS AN INDUCEMENT,

To visit our Matting Department, which will afford the surest confirmation of our claim to the best selected stock of Mattings in Maysville, we offer genuine, serviceable Shag Matting in Oriental effects and designs for 1c. yard Friday and Saturday. Not our fault if you arrive too late. This bargain is too real to last long and in your appreciation of it don't fail to count the fact the Tariff will make all Mattings higher priced next season. More elaborate Mattings in all colors and at all prices.

He aimed to be a statesman
When he started out to work;
But thought he'd be a statesman,
A measurer or a Burke.
For years he toiled obscurely
In the interests of the state,
But at last turned politician,
So now he's rich and great.

Purely Business!

The columns of a newspaper represent a cash value. No publisher can afford to give advertising "notions" free any more than a merchant can take over his counter free gifts of dry goods or shoes. A newspaper is a legitimate business concern. Its columns are its stock in trade, and advertisements should be paid for, no matter in what part of the paper they appear.

"The best way to get rid of a bad law is to enforce it."—General Grant.

A St. Louis clergyman says that the earth will pass away before the year 2000. But unfortunately, says the Chicago Post, he neglects to state which one of the several claimants who are after it will get it.

UNCLE SAM has an "auxiliary" Naval fleet of sixty-four merchant vessels, which can be converted into armored cruisers with 892 guns. What's the matter with sending this fleet after the Spanish torpedo boats, and let the latter exhaust its ammunition on it? When this is done, our regular war vessels could have a whole lot of fun with the Dons—by capturing every ship they had and towing them into port. However, this is only a "land lubber's" idea of Naval warfare, and there's no patent on it.

SIMON BOLIVAR BECKER, a distinguished Confederate General and ex-Governor of this state, was a few days ago asked his opinion as to President McKinley's course in the Spanish controversy; and here's what he said:
"As far as it is apparent to the public his course merits general approval. As the executive head of the Government he recognizes his duty to maintain peace as long as it is to be done with honor. He has very properly avoided hasty action and seems determined that our action shall be so just that it will meet with the approbation of the civilized world. He has himself witnessed the horrors of war, and does not desire to plunge his country needlessly into an armed contest with any other Nation. As the responsible head of a great Government, he feels that he has no right to subordinate his patriotic duties to a manufactured public clamor."

PATRIOTIC CATHOLICS.
Lexington Y. M. I. Unanimously endorse President McKinley's Course Toward Spain.

At a recent session of the Y. M. I. at Lexington these resolutions were adopted unanimously:

WHEREAS War between Spain and our beloved country seems inevitable; therefore, be it
Resolved, That while we deplore war and its awful results, we feel that it is a limit to treachery and injustice; that life and property must be protected; home and justice held sacred; and that the responsible head of a great Government, in whatever action they may take.
Resolved, That we look upon the cool, conservative course of our President as the truest test of a good man, a wise executive and unflinching soldier and patriot.
